

Capital Region Land Conservancy with the VA League of Conservation Voters-Education Fund
530 E. Main Street; Suite 410
Richmond, VA 23219

*We are gardeners and farmers.
We are anglers and hunters and birders.
We own fifty acres, and we own five.
Some of us were raised here.
Some spent years searching for our Henrico home.
But we all love our land.*

*We all see the region changing, and...
We all have questions.
Join us for answers on Saturday, March 20, 2010
at Dorey Park - Henrico County*

Printed on recycled paper

Are there tax credits for landowners who want to keep their land green?

*How can I pro
mum acreage fi
and state exper logical health a*

Conservation Tools to Protect Your Land

Sat., MARCH 20, 2010 - 9 am – 12 noon

Dorey Recreation Center, Dorey Park
7200 Dorey Park Drive - Henrico, VA 23231

Please sign up before March 12

To register call: Envision Henrico at 804.433.8900 or email: Envisionhenrico@gmail.com.

For details, go to www.PSGrichmond.org/EnvisionHenrico

What's the minin? Will county to map its eco-ny yard inviting

habitat farm a den aní

Participating Experts: Varina District Supervisor Jim Donati, VA Outdoors Foundation, Conservation Partners, VA Department of Forestry, Capital Region Land Conservancy, Partnership for Smarter Growth, Henricopolis Soil & Water Conservation District, Williamsburg Environmental Group, VA Dept. of Historic Resources, Association for the Preservation of Henrico Antiquities, Varina Beautification Committee, VA Dept. of Game & Inland Fisheries, experienced Varina land owners . . . and more.

Brought to you free of charge thanks to the generosity of Capital Region Land Conservancy, Envision Henrico, Henrico County, Conservation Partners, Partnership for Smarter Growth, Association for the Preservation of Henrico Antiquities, Varina Beautification Committee, and Carolyn Steffen.

*a tree
n garnking?*

How does a conservation easement work, and what costs are involved?